Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1 and 6, the structure of the apparatus is recited in combination with the golf clubs. For example, in claim 1, the tubular members are said to be "substantially shorter than said golf clubs", which positively relates the apparatus with the golf clubs. Consequently, it is not clear if the golf clubs are being recited in combination with the apparatus. For examination purposes, it is assumed that only the apparatus is being claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Townsend et al.

Portion 11b has three tubes in a triangle as recited and a handle 11a parallel with the tubes. All of these members are molded in one-piece, column 5, lines 21-24.

Regarding the "clip member" of claim 2, the bend 31 meets such a broad recitation.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5 and 6 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
